BARTON HEIGHTS EASY VICTIMS

Brownies Pile Up Scores On the Northsiders Without Difficulty.

THREE GAMES TO-MORROW

Labor Day Will Be Marked By Vigorous Contests-Rain Spoils Late Game.

In spite of the threatening weather the grand stand at Broad Street Park was more than half full when Ump.re Dake called play at 245 yesterday afternon. Those who did risk the threatculty weather in the hepe of seeles two fast games of ball were disappointed, for the first game became too one-sided to be interesting, and the hard rain drove umplre and players to shelter durling the fifth inning of the second context, just in time to prevent the game from counting in the official record, in fact, the bail and field were too wet at the beginning of the fifth inning for the game to be properly played, and it really should have been discontinued at the end of the fourth.

For the second time hand-running the Barton Heights team was badly handcapped by the absence of two players.
Enooks and Fitzpatrick. The latter had been advertised to pitch, but for some reason failed to show up, and again two players had to be picked up on the field, and to their errors at least four of the Brownles' runs are attributable.

First Game. was more than half full when Umpre

First Game.

First Game.

The Brownies started their run-getting in the first inning. After Bowers had flied to Taylor, McEvoy drove a high one to Long, which for some reason or other he was unable to hold. Hicks went out Murphy to Tritton, and McEvoy reached qecond. Sharp than secured a corknig two-bagger in left-center, scoring McEvoy, he himself coming home a second later on Eacho's single to right. In the third both sides added one to the yun column, Bivton Heights on Long's two-bagger and Bache's single, and the Brownles on singles by Hicks and Eacho and a fielder's choice.

The Brownles made it four by securing one more run in the fourth on a fielder's choice, and two wild throws to first by Murphy, who played in Bache's place at third.

In the fifth Barton Heights got busy

Murphy, who played in Bache's place at third.

In the fifth Barton Heights got busy once more, Taylor obtained a free pass to the initial bag, but a moment later was forced out at second by Bache's grounder, that player reaching first safely by fast sprinting. Then Winston to 8-ed Boone one at just the height le wanted it, and he smacked it viclously against right-field fence for two bases, sending Bache home. After Mills had been thrown out at first by McEvoy, Phillips drove a corking single to center, scoring Boone. Phillips, by the way, betted in big league fashion yesterday, seeuring three long singles and a two-bagger against left-field fence out of four times up.

Tied the Score.

Tied the Score.

The Barton Heights boys made their fourth and last run in their half of the seventh with Bache's single and Phillips's two-bagger. This tied the score, but the enthusiasm of their friends vanished when the balloon ascension came in the last half of this fateful inning. In this inning three bases on balls, three singles and three errors netted the Brownies cight runs, every man on the tram crossing the rubber except Whiston, who obligingly ended the agony by making three unsuccessful efforts to solve Bache's delivery. This naturally took all the life out of the Students, and the remaining innings were played in listless fashion. The docate cannot be attributed to Bache's pitching, for with the exception of the eventful seventh he did remarkably well for a player who has been playing the infield the whole season.

The hits made by his opponents were unfortunately coincident with his own team's errors, and thereby hangs the awful tale. The appended score will furnish those interested with the further details of the game:

But the crowd would have the game, and so it was started, with Charters and Leake pitching for their respective teams, Manchester broke the fee early and scored their first run on singles by Anthony and Cheatham, and Richmond duplicated their performance with a base on balls and Knightley's long drive to right center for two bases. Two bases on balls and a single by Leake gave Manchester an-other run in the fourth. At the beginning of the fifth, the rain started and the game which should have been stopped then and there was continued at the earnest insistence of the crowd, many of whom had just arrived and hadn't been fortunade enough to obtain any return for their money.

In this inning Charters, who had pitched for Norfolk the day before, and was consequently unfit for the game, weakened considerably, and was additionally handicapped by the wet ball, Mancheeter was thus enabled to make six runs before three men had been retired.

In the last half, with two men out, Umpire Bender was forced to call the game on account of the drenching rain that was rapusity transforming the diamond into a mill pond. Had one more man been retired the game would have counted, and Manchester credited with a victory, but it was not so to be.
